HAVE A LOOK

AT OUR SILVER LEVER WATCH at Rs. 35 before buying, and you will give it the preference before any other.

The Watch as it is now, is the result of 20 years experience in the Indian watch trade, and we guarantee it to be the most perfect watch ever offered to the public for such a small outlay.

Being the manufacturers ourselves, the buyer obtains the watch from first hand. This explains its cheapness.

The Watches are of medium size in heavy engine turned silver cases, either hunting or half hunting. Guarantee 3 years.

THE SCOURGE OF THE UNIVERSE!
CHOLERA
SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY THE USE OF COTTER'S CHOLERA PILLS.

Now that the frightful ravages of cholera is the subject of controversy among our eminent Medical and Sanitary authorities, it behoves us to look to ourselves, and to seek the knowledge of a faithful reliable medicine, which, while being thoroughly efficacious, will also come within the reach of the means of everyone.

COTTER'S CHOLERA PILLS!!!

Have obtained a reputation which, if it was more generally known, would prove an eminent blessing to thousands of sufferers. The present holder has obtained the sole proprietary right from Mr. Cotter, and the cause of humanity demands, undeniably, that the public should be made fully cognizant of a remedy so easy of access.

COTTER'S CHOLERA PILLS

Surpass any other medicine in the world for efficacy of properties, and several have derived great material benefit from a medicine which has only to be tried to recommend itself, even to sceptics in matters medicinal. In every fact, Cotter's Pills are miraculous in their effects, and will eventually prove their many advantages in the face of any other choleraic preventive.

VESSELS ARRIVED.—The following vessels arrived on the 13th:—Sahara (s), from Liverpool; Umberto Arbib (s), and Inchulva (s), Cardiff; Roma (s), London; Calder (s), Bussorah. Yesterday:—California (s), Liverpool; Rubattino (s), Genoa; Commilla (s), Kurrachee; and City of Carthage (s), Glasgow.

VESSELS SAILED.—The following vessels sailed on the 13th:—Narcissus, for Havre; and I. M. S. Tenasserim, Kurrachee. Yesterday:—Prinz Alexander (s) and Othello (s), for Hull.

FORT GRATUITOUS DISPENSARY.—Total number treated in May, 5,405; daily average 174; new admissions 1,235. Total number of children, 2,061.

STREET ACCIDENT.—A Hindoo lad aged ten years named Mahadia Luximon was on Saturday morning, while playing in the Cheera Bazaar-road, knocked down by a runaway horse, and sustained severe injuries about the head. He was picked up in an unconscious state, and removed to the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital.

A CORRECTION.—In our report of a police case last Saturday, a prisoner named Juiga Pandoo was reported to have been sent to jail for two years by Mr. Webb, acting Chief Presidency Magistrate, for failing to furnish security for his good behaviour for a period of two years. The order that had been made by his worship was:—"The accused to be detained in prison pending the orders of the High Court sitting in its Criminal Jurisdiction." The charge brought against the prisoner was that of being a habitual thief.

DEMANDING MORE THAN HIS LEGAL FARE.—Hoosain Fukeera, a victoria driver, was charged before Mr. Webb by Sergt-Major Randle, on Saturday, with demanding more than his legal fare. Sergt-Major Randle engaged a victoria at Byculla, and drove to Lower Colaba, when he tendered a rupee, the fare by the new rate in force since the 1st of this month. The accused refused to accept it. He demanded Rs. 2, and showed the old fare book. The Sergt-Major reported the matter to Inspector Rennie, who directed him to charge the accused. His worship fined him Rs. 5, and granted the complainant his expenses out of the fine.

HOUSE-BREAKING.—At the Fort Police Court on Saturday, Cumnula Muggun was charged before Mr. Webb with having broken into the shop of one Bickia Ambidas, his master, and stolen Rs. 216 therefrom. The accused had been employed as a mehta by the complainant for a short time. Two days ago the complainant received Rs. 216, and placed it, in the presence of the accused, in a box. The next day he found his shop door open, the box which had contained the money broken open, and a candle and long nail lying close by. Seeing that the accused did not come to work as usual, the matter was reported to the police and the accused subsequently arrested. Pleading guilty, and admitting a previous conviction, he was sent to jail for eighteen months.

ROBBING A CHILD OF ITS ORNAMENTS.—Dhondoo Luximan, a cart driver, was on Saturday convicted by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee of stealing two silver wristlets and a silver neck-ornament, valued at Rs. 10, from the person of a child aged five years, at Khetwaddy. The prisoner, on admitting several previous convictions, was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment. He was further convicted upon two other charges of theft of a lota and a copper vessel, belonging to two other persons, and was sentenced to a further term of three months' rigorous imprisonment, to take effect immediately after the expiration of the first sentence. Soonder Narayin, alias Baboo, a goldsmith, was convicted of receiving and disposing of a portion of the stolen property, knowing it to have been stolen, and was sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 50, or in default to undergo two months' rigorous imprisonment.

THEFT OF CLOTHING.—At the Fort Police Court, on Saturday, before Mr. Webb, Hyder Alli Sumnat Alli, a domestic servant, was charged with the theft of sundry articles of wearing apparel, valued at Rs. 200, the property of Captain Russel, Superintendent of the Prince's Dock. The accused was a servant of a Captain Rue, who is living, with Captain Russel in his bungalow in the Dock. At about half-past six on Saturday evening the hamal heard some one going upstairs, and knowing there was no one in the house except a Captain White, he followed, and saw the accused sitting on the floor of his master's room, before a chest-of-drawers, with a bundle of clothes near him. He went down and told Captain White about it, and that gentleman at once went upstairs. He noticed a glass handle of the drawers on the floor. He asked the accused what he was doing. The latter then went into the room occupied by Captain Ruel and drew out a bundle of clothes from under a dressing table. These, he said, were his master's dirty clothes, and he wanted to take them away. Captain White detained him, telling him to take them away next day. Meanwhile he sent for Captain Russel, and informed him of what had occurred. On the bundle being examined, Captain Russel found that it contained clothing belonging to him. Accused was also found to be wearing a pair of new boots belonging to that gentleman. The magistrate sent him to jail for six months.

PILGRIMS TO MECCA.—His Highness Mir Nur Mahomed Khan Talpur (grandson of Mir Nur Mahomed, the eldest of the four reigning Hyderabad Mirs known as the chair yar or four friends) arrived in Kurrachee this morning from Hyderabad en route to Mecca. He sails, with his ladies and a numerous suite, in the s. s. Ludiana. He was met at the train by Rao Bahadur Diwan Wadumal, the Deputy Collector, and conducted to the Mirs' bungalow in the Merewether Gardens, where he is at present staying.—Sind Gazette.

THE KURRACHEE COLLECTORATE.—Colonel Wallace will hand over charge of the Kurrachee Collectorate to Colonel Crawford on the 16th, and will leave Kurrachee for Europe on the 14th instant. A farewell dinner to Colonel Wallace was given last evening at Government House, when his many personal friends met to do him honour. During his long career in Sind, Colonel Wallace has most deservedly gained the respect and affection of both the Europeans and natives,—and we wish him, with all sincerity, a prosperous voyage home, and health and happiness in his native land.—Ibid.

SMALL CAUSES COURT.—JUNE 13.

(Before Mr. N. SPENCER, Second Judge.)

AN INTERPLEADER SUIT.

GOKALDEE ROWJEE AND OTHERS vs. A. FERNANDES.

MR. NUSSERWANJEE NOWROJEE appeared for the plaintiff, and the defendant in person.

This was an action to recover from the defendant Rs. 352, being the amount of money lent on a promissory note passed by the defendant to the plaintiff. In February last the case was heard before Mr. Gunputrao, the Fourth Judge of the court, who ordered the amount to be paid by monthly instalments of Rs. 10. The defendant paid only two instalments, whereupon the plaintiff obtained an attachment against his property. On the 5th instant his wife obtained a notice calling upon the plaintiff to show cause why the attachment should not be set aside, and the property given over to her. In support of this application, she said that she obtained the property before her marriage to the defendant from her mother. She called her husband, the defendant, her father-in-law, and her brother-in-law, who all stated that the property was a present made to her by her mother before the marriage.

Sorabjee Canjee, the bailiff of the court, stated that at the time he levied the attachment, the defendant's wife did not inform him that the property was hers.

The judge said that the court must have very satisfactory evidence to show that the property belonged to the defendant's wife. The evidence of a member of the family was insufficient and unsatisfactory, on this point; and he therefore disallowed the claim, and confirmed the attachment.

THE PUBLICATION OF AN OBSCENE BOOK.

ON Saturday, the case in which Rustomjee Hormusjee Cursetjee was charged with selling and distributing an obscene book in Guzerati, entitled "Rustumjini Ramuji Chopdi," was resumed before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee. The accused had pleaded guilty when the case came on for hearing a fortnight ago, and had handed over to the Commissioner of Police 876 copies of the book, which he had in his possession. The case was adjourned, in order to enable the accused to get back as many of the copies that had passed out of his hands as he could, the magistrate observing at the time that the sentence would depend largely on the good faith with which the defendant would try to recover them.

Mr. Little, Public Prosecutor, appeared for the prosecution; and Mr. Hormusjee, of Messers. Ardesheer and Hormusjee, with Mr. Sorabjee Bezenjee, pleader, conducted the defence.

Mr. Little said the accused had recovered about sixty copies, and that he did not think there was any chance of getting back the rest. There were in all about 125 copies outstanding, out of which, he believed, 63 were unaccounted for.

Mr. Hormusjee said that the whole edition of the book consisted of 1,001 copies, out of which 876 had already been handed over to the Commissioner of Police, leaving 125 copies to be accounted for. The accused had now done everything in his power to get back as many of the copies that had passed out of his hands as he could. He caused advertisements to be inserted in the Rast Goftar and other vernacular papers, and wrote letters to the purchasers to give up the book, offering to return them the price which they had paid for it. Under the Act three copies were with the Collector of Bombay, one was before the court, and one more with the Registrar under Act 25 of 1867. Taking these into account 68 copies had altogether been recovered by the accused since the case had been adjourned, leaving about 55 copies to be accounted for. The names of some of the purchasers of the outstanding copies were known to the accused, who wrote to them requesting them to return the book. But some of them excused themselves by saying the book had been misplaced. How far their statement was correct, Mr. Hormusjee said he was not prepared to say.

The magistrate.—Are you prepared to give up the names?

Mr. Hormusjee said he had not the slightest objection to give them up.

The list, containing about 20 names, was then handed over to the magistrate.

Mr. Hormusjee said that the Public Prosecutor might call upon them to produce the book. Mr. Hormusjee then read the following letter written by his client to Mr. Little:—

Bombay, 23rd May, 1885.

To F. A. Little, Esq., Government Solicitor, Bombay.

HONOURED SIR,—In reference to certain proceedings that are being taken against me as the compiler and publisher of a book entitled "Rustomjini Ramuji Chopdi," I have the honour to inform you that I hereby undertake to stop the sale of the book immediately, and that I also undertake to expunge the passages from the book as are adjudged by you bad and improper. I most humbly supplicate to you to judge of this my first attempt in authorship (which was undertaken with a view to make money) with the leniency and gentleness characteristic of the ruling race, and trust that the worthy Commissioner of Police will follow the same generous-hearted example. Until the expungement of the obnoxious passages and the substitution and registration of the new matter to be inserted in their stead, I do not issue the book for sale. I make over an inventory of the number of books in stock and deliver it over to you by Monday, the 25th instant.

I have the honour to be,
Honoured Sir,
Your most obedient and humble servant,
RUSTAMJI HORMASJI KHARSHEDJI.

Mr. Hormusjee went on to say that it would be seen that from the moment the accused had heard of the prosecution against him, he exerted himself to the best of his power to undo the mischief which had been done unintentionally. That which he had, no doubt, been more than sufficiently punished, in that he had suffered a loss of about Rs. 3,000 by the destruction of nearly the entire edition.

The magistrate.—What is the actual loss. What is the amount paid to the printer?

Mr. Hormusjee said the amount came to about Rs. 1,700. And then it must be remembered that the accused had spent many months over the publication before he brought it out. The labour, it must be admitted, was foolishly wasted; but they should see that he was a young man just out of his teens, who was trying his hand at authorship for the first time in his life. Mr. Hormusjee further observed that without justifying any of the objectionable passages, he must say that they did not come within the penal provisions of the Code. Section 292 contained the words "obscene book," but nowhere was the expression clearly defined in the Code. As Mayne had said, the word "obscene" was one of considerable ambiguity. These were his own words:—"I consider the word must be limited to those productions whose primary and palpable result is to excite lust." These words could hardly apply to the book published by the accused. There were, no doubt, passages which Mr. Hormusjee said were ridiculous. But if they were to raise a protest against isolated passages that might in any way be objectionable, there were hundreds and hundreds of such books sold by well-known publishers, and nobody had ever thought it his business to proceed against their authors. Mr. Hormusjee wondered why the authorities had now so suddenly roused themselves to action in order to stop the accused's book only for suppression. There was one book called "The Garden of Wisdom," and printed in a well-known press. It contained passages which were far more filthy than any that could be found in the book of the accused.

The magistrate.—I have nothing to do with that which is not before me.

Mr. Hormusjee replied that when a young and inexperienced man saw that objectionable books published by well-known firms had passed unnoticed, it was natural for him to conclude that such books were not indictable. He did not want the court to regard these observations in the light of a justification of the passages, but he submitted them to his worship with the object of showing that there were a number of extenuating circumstances which might well be borne in mind while passing sentence. Furthermore, the Government official, before the book was registered, must have gone through it, and seen that it was not objectionable.

The magistrate said he did not think the official had to go through the whole of the book.

Mr. Hormusjee.—He has to see that the book satisfies the provisions of the Act.

The magistrate.—I know that. Mr. Grant has a knowledge of Gujerati, but I do not think that he is required to read every book he registers.

Mr. Hormusjee said the official had to submit the report, under the Publication Act, to Government, and he must have native clerks under him well acquainted with the vernaculars. All the circumstances of the case tended to show that the young man had not the slightest idea of insulting any individuals or the general public by publishing the work. Chief Justice Cockburn was also at one with Mayne that the primary object of an obscene publication must be to provoke lust. But this was by no means the object of the accused.

The magistrate.—That might not be his object, but his writings lead to that result.

Mr. Hormusjee.—I do not think so, sir.

The magistrate.—Have you read the extracts?

Mr. Hormusjee said that he had. But he was prepared to say that if some of the passages were objectionable, by far the greater portion of the book was certainly unobjectionable. The loss which the accused had suffered was punishment quite sufficient, and he (Mr. Hormusjee) thought that justice would be satisfied if the young man were now let off with a warning, as any punishment, however light, that might be inflicted upon him would simply be his ruin. It appeared that his worship had read the greater portion of the book, and he must have found that there was some literary merit in it. He was sure his worship would be the last person to crush attempts at authorship when they were well directed.

The magistrate.—Do you wish to say anything, Mr. Little?

Mr. Little.—All that I have to say is that the defendant has done his best to procure the copies which had passed out of his hands, and that the question of punishment is entirely in your worship's hands.

The magistrate then said that he had already expressed his opinion of the character of the book, and that he should be only consulting public taste and public feeling by not alluding again at length to the obscene nature of the book. But he must say, after the remarks which had fallen from Mr. Hormusjee, that there was no question whatever as to the book being of such a nature as to bring the author within the meaning of section 292 of the Indian Penal Code. The several passages produced before the court were, in the words of Mr. Mayne, "such as to excite lust." It had been laid down that if "a book was of such a character that its perusal would suggest to the minds of the young of either sex, or even to persons of more advanced years, thoughts of a most impure and libidinous character, then its sale was a criminal offence." Such a book was the book produced by the accused. His worship then proceeded to say that the case was adjourned to that day to enable the accused to procure the copies which had passed out of his hands, and the court would consider the question of punishment afterwards. He now found that the accused had done his best to procure 68 copies of those sold, and these had been handed over to the court. The other copies he was unable to get. His worship saw in the list handed over to him of unrecovered copies than some had been sent by their purchasers to such places as China and Zanzibar, and of course it would be difficult to get back those copies; but his worship observed, for the information of all parties who had still in their possession copies of this book, that the possession of an obscene book is an indictable offence under the Penal Code. The section of the Code runs thus: "Whoever has in his possession any such obscene book or other thing as is mentioned in the last preceding section for the purpose of sale, distribution, or public exhibition shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to three months or with fine, or both." Now, if the Public Prosecutor received information, that the book was in the possession of a person, and applied for a summons against him, his worship would have no hesitation in granting the application. The section says that if the book was kept for public exhibition the person would be liable to be punished; but if a person said that he had kept the book, not for public exhibition, but for his own use, or that it was merely kept in his library, let him come here and say so. He would give the public an evidence of his taste. Then, again, it should be known, his worship said, that the proprietor of the printing press was equally liable with the author to the penalties of the Act. Why the printer in the present case had not been proceeded against, it was not for him to say. He had no doubt the Public Prosecutor had exercised his own discretion, and he would say nothing further than that printers must know the risk they run by allowing obscene books to be printed in their establishments. As regarded the punishment of the accused, his worship said that he thought he had been sufficiently punished by the heavy pecuniary loss inflicted upon him by the destruction of all his books. It was no use fining him any more; but he would record a sentence of one day's imprisonment against him, and order that he be detained in custody till the rising of the court. His worship further observed that the fate of the accused would be a warning to others, and he hoped a similar attempt to corrupt public morals would not be made by any one. His worship concluded by observing that the Commissioner of Police and the Public Prosecutor had done a public service by taking rigorous action in this matter in the interest of public morality.

The 68 copies produced before the court were ordered to be destroyed, along with the others that had already been given up.

FOREST REGULATIONS IN THE THANA DISTRICT.

A RESOLUTION of the Bombay Government of the 14th of May prescribes the following regulations for the collection of material for rab in the Thana District:—

It appears to the Governor in Council that in regard to the Reserved Forests the same privileges may be allowed in the Kalyan as have been sanctioned in the Bhiwndi and Panvel Talukás, i.e., although no lopping of any trees is to be permitted (except in the circumstance hereafter to be mentioned) in the Reserved Forest area the inhabitants of forest villages may be allowed to take free of charge for their own use from the enclosed portions of the Reserved Forest, and with the permission of the Divisional Forest Officer from the closed portions also, grass, trees, leaves (other than temburuni and apta) the 10 classes of shrubs, and generally all brushwod of no value for any other purpose. The rab depôt system appears to have proved a failure, partly owing to the disinclination of the villagers to take rab from the depôts, partly because the materials at those depots were often when wanted unserviceable for the purpose for which they were required. The Forest Settlement Officer and Mr. Wilkins suggest as a substitute for the unsuccessful depôt scheme a system under which a forest block should be divided into a certain number of compartments of which one or more should be cleared yearly, the timber being felled for sale, and the wild trees being cut by cuttings being thus made in rotation and the block being worked on scientific principles. The inhabitants of the villages in which the block is situated and the adjacent villages and records of no cuttings were that year being effected would, under the proposed scheme, be permitted to cut and remove not only the brushwood, &c., in the compartment in which the trees were being felled, but also both before and after the trees had been felled to lop and take all the twigs, branches, and small boughs not required by the Forest Department for manufacture into rab. They would thus be provided with a considerable stock of rab meterials. The plan thus suggested seems perfectly practicable, and if judiciously carried out will afford much relief to the cultivators. Its introduction need not be deferred pending the preparation of working plans by the proposed new department as the Divisional Forest officers must be in a position to know and decide when cuttings are ripe for felling. The privilege thus accorded, to give them timely notice beforehand when and where the cuttings will take place, and so to arrange the date of the cuttings that it shall not clash with similar cuttings by neighbours for preparing and burning the rab. This system should be introduced, and like privileges granted in the talukas of the Kolaba Collectorate and the coast talukas of the Thana District where forest settlement and demarcation have already been finished.

In respect of rab privileges in the Protected Forest the proposals of the Forest Settlement Officer are approved. The inhabitants of the villages in which such forests are situated may in addition to cutting reeds, grass brushwood, etc., lop for rab the side branches, but not the leading shoot, of all trees growing in Protected Forests except the ak, Blackwood, Tiwas, Mango, Khair, Kalam, Bibla, Asana, Nana, Koshimb, and Hed. The prohibition of the lopping of ain, dhaura, and bauda (which are held in the talukas of the Thana District where forest settlement and demarcation have already been finished.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 13.

THE latest public commercial telegrams in, up to the time of writing, are only of Thursday's date. They indicate the recovery of a more settled feeling regarding home politics, Consols being ⅛ higher at 98⅛, the 3½ per cent. Indian Sterling Loan ¼ up at 101, and 4½ per cent. Rupee Paper ½ higher. Exchange Bank shares—Chartered, Chartered Mercantile, and Hongkong and Shanghai—are all 10s. per share higher.

The Bank of England return shows a further increase of 1 per cent. in the proportion of the reserve to liabilities, but rates of discount in the outside market remain unchanged at 1 per cent. on 3 months' and 1½ per cent. on 6 months' paper.

In the Home General Produce markets no movement is reported.

Cotton in Liverpool on Thursday closed steady, but the sales were only estimated at 8,000 bales, and the tendency of the market was evidently downward again, Broach on the spot being quoted 1-16d. lower, Americans to arrive 1-32d. to 3-64d. down. In New York, too, while ready Cotton was unchanged, futures were 9 points lower. Reuter now gives us the Washington Agricultural Bureau's report on the acreage planted with cotton, viz :—18 millions. This enables us to form a much better estimate of the present prospects of the crop, and we repeat the comparative statement of the condition which we gave yesterday, with the acreage added :—

| | June Condition | Acreage | Crop |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1885 | 92 | 18,000,000 | ..... |
| 1884 | 87 | 17,427,000 | 5,6 0,000 |
| 1883 | 86 | 16,778,000 | 5,714,000 |
| 1882 | 89 | 15,277 000 | 6,992 000 |
| 1881 | 93 | 16,741,000 | 5,43 ,000 |
| 1880 | 98 | 15,951,000 | 6,589,000 |

While we are thus able to form a fair estimate of the state of the crop at present, the matter of ultimate out-turn is of course as uncertain as ever, being dependent on the weather of the next three months. We can, however, get an idea of the possibilities, and these are sufficient to show how futile it is attempting to formulate an opinion as to the course of the market beyond a certain limit. For instance, the acreage and present condition of the growing crop would produce, with similar results to those obtained last season, a total of 6,125,000 bales, but might under the same favourable conditions as the crop of 1882-83, which was the largest ever grown, give a yield of 8 millions. These, however, express the extremes, and an average of the results of the five previous years would give 6,650,000 bales. Even that would mean a low range of values for Cotton when supply became available; but in the interval there is a time of extreme scarcity to be got over, and with every indication of a favourable monsoon on this side to encourage trade, it is difficult to see how temporarily high prices can be avoided.

Regarding the market here we have simply nothing to report. Business is at a standstill, exporters with few exceptions having closed their operations for the season.

WHEAT.—A steady quiet tone prevails, with a moderate extent of business passing. The decline in freights is bringing prices to something nearer a workable level, although that much sought after margin on home values is still conspicuous by its absence. For No. 1 White Pesay we quote Rs. 3-10, No. 1 Club Delhi Rs. 3-9 per cwt. railway terms.

SEEDS are firm, but there is no change in prices.

FREIGHTS exhibit increased dulness, and practically we should call rates 1s. 3d. per ton lower. Liverpool especially is weak owing to the scarcity of measurement cargo. We quote current rates to-day :—

| | Ready. | Forward. |
|---|---|---|
| Liverpool ..... | 21s. 3d. to 22s. 6d. | |
| Havre..... | 23-. 9d. | 22s. 6d. |
| Antwerp ..... | 23s. | |
| Marseilles ..... | 22s. 6d. | |
| Trieste-Venice... | | 32s. 6d. |

EXCHANGE has been the turn firmer again, on the strength of higher quotations for Bar Silver from London, and firm advices from Calcutta. Bank Bills are not altered, but the banks would draw more willingly for future delivery at 1-32d. under ready rates, and they have advanced their buying quotations 1-32d. Closing rates are :—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Bank Bills on demand ..... | 1s. 6 29-32d. | per rupee |
| Do. Telegraphic ..... | 1s. 6d. | ,, |
| Do. Three months' sight .... | 1s. 6 31-32d. | ,, |
| Credits ,, ,, ,, .... | 1s. 7 3-32d. | ,, |
| Francs ,, ,, ,, .... | 201 | ,, |

GOVERNMENT PAPER has hardened up again, and there has been an active inquiry for Fours to day up to Rs. 96¾. Fours-and-a-half we still quote at Rs. 99½.

SHARES are firm. Spinning and Weaving Mills are in better request all round, and mostly Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 higher. In the case of Framjee Petit and City the rise is Rs. 20, and in Khandeish and Ripon Rs. 25 per share. Press shares are steady, Colabas having advanced Rs. 5, Mofussils Rs. 10. Bombay Flour Mills are inquired for at Rs. 640.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, JUNE 15, 1885.

THE Government of Bombay, in issuing a series of Resolutions relating to forest administration in the Thana District have shown a laudable regard for the anxious interest which has recently been awakened upon this subject. We may accept the mere publication of these Resolutions as a proof that the Government have ears; and there are passages in the later Resolutions—those of the 4th and 14th of May in the present year—which will lead people to hope that they are not entirely without sympathy. We are still a very long way indeed from a thorough reform of the system of forest management, many of whose incidents have made the Department dangerously but unnecessarily unpopular. And if we take the whole batch of papers into view—extending as they do from October, 1883, to only a month since—we shall find ample material for supporting the indictment of the Department which has been drafted in our columns and elsewhere. The confession by the Government of Bombay that their rab depôt system has proved a failure, and the adoption of a new and less restrictive method in the place of it, were reserved for the middle of last month. The date is significant. It was quite six weeks after the appearance of the damaging indictment which an anonymous writer had prepared, and to which we called attention early in April; it was five weeks after a deputation from Thana and Kalyan waited upon the new Governor of Bombay, laying before him a statement of the grievances of the forest tribes. Thus, then, the agitation has not been carried on for nothing, though it has yet to be seen whether the scheme which the Government have provided for getting over the rab difficulty will meet all the objections which have been raised to the present régime. The concessions, such as they are, are exhibited as privileges, and not as rights, and we are afraid that in the view of many of the advocates of the forest tribes this will seem to vitiate boons which otherwise might have been welcomed. Upon this point the Government are clear and unyielding. It is not only in Mr. Lawrence's earlier reports—where time after time it is recorded that the only "rights" found to exist are rights of way to a temple or a forest shrine—that the claim is discouraged. To the last—that is to say, in the Resolution of the 14th of May, in which the Government gave clear proofs of their amenability to the wholesome pressure of the recent agitation—they describe as privileges what have been asked for as rights, founded on immemorial custom. "The privileges to be allowed in Government forests," we read in one paragraph; in another it is agreed that the same "privileges sanctioned" in the Bhiwndi and Panvel Talukas shall be allowed in the Kalyan Taluka; they are privileges in the protected forests no less than in the more strictly conserved reserved forests. It may be urged that the practical effect will be the same, whether the concessions be made as of right or as of privilege. That may be so, though seeing that the permission of the divisional Forest officer is requisite before some of the concessions granted can come into operation, we are by no means sure upon the point.

The Government Resolution, however, deals very candidly with the rab question in some of its aspects. It is a subject for congratulation that the Bombay Government have not been led astray by the clever advisers who hold that rab cultivation is barbarous, old-fashioned and effete, and that it is the duty of an enlightened Government to show the forest tribes a more excelleut way. Better ways are undoubtedly within reach of agricultural science; but the question is whether the better ways of agricultural science are within reach of the cultivators of the forest villages. It was a favourite maxim with Lord Mayo that we should be careful to avoid telling the Indian agriculturist first of all that which he already knows, and then that we should avoid recommending him that which we know it is impossible for him to do. Whatever we may think of some of the methods pursued by indigenous cultivators, they are the methods which long-standing custom has sanctioned to a people jealously conservative in their habits, and we must take them as we find them. As the Government Resolution says, "whatever may be the theoretical views on the point, it is impossible to avoid the conclusion that rab is necessary, or, what is the same thing, is regarded by the cultivators as essential; that the supply of cowdung is insufficient; and that large quantities of grass, brushwood, and branches are required to supplement, and in parts almost entirely to take the place of, cowdung." This is a good starting point, and when immediately on setting out from it the Government lay it down as an ascertained fact that the warkas land does not supply the rab requirements of the rice cultivator, the authors of the Resolution find it easy enough to come to the conclusion that something must be done. What that something is, will be found set out at length in another column. Briefly stated, the proposals of the Government are that the rab depôt system having failed, the cultivators in the Kalyan district shall be allowed to take grass, reeds, leaves, certain classes of shrubs, "and generally all brushwood of no value for any other purpose." Besides this, a system of compartments is to be tried, by which the yearly clearing and felling of single compartments in succession would place an additional stock of brushwood at the disposal of the inhabitants of the adjacent villages. Further privileges are given in the protected forests, where the lopping of the side branches of certain trees will in certain localities be permitted. In this there is a sensible mitigation of the grievances under which the tribes and the forest villagers have lain. But we prefer not to pass judgment upon the concessions which the Government have made until they have been seen in operation. The determination of the Government to check the illicit collection of firewood by Kalbodis and Warlis for the purpose of selling it to Bombay dealers must be approved of. If more vigilance had been shown in regard to this pernicious irregularity, and less in regard to the more legitimate eagerness of the forest tribes to satisfy their necessities in the matter of rab, the Forest Department might have had larger results to show, and fewer heartburnings to appease.

The Government have remitted to a conference of Forest officers which is to be held in Thana this month the consideration of the best methods of regulating the sale of fuel for commercial purposes. We could have wished that another conference had been convened, and that a larger programme had been prepared for it. For it would be affectation to pretend that the Government Resolutions, satisfactory though they may be so far as they go, cover the whole area of grievance. The new regulations in regard to rab will be limited to the settled talukas of the Thana District, though no one would pretend that the question of forest grievances is circumscribed by the limits of that district. Reports which have reached us within the past few months from Kanara show that as far south as that the forest administration is not giving satisfaction to those who come within its range. The proposal has been made that an independent commission of inquiry should be appointed to investigate the long list of complaints which, more especially in the Thana, Kolaba, and North Konkan districts, have been brought against the administration. The Government Resolutions touch one only—though the most important—of those complaints. They do not deal with the grazing rights, alleged to be immemoriably prescriptive, of the forest tribes—or at least they deal with them only to demolish them. "The scale of grazing fees should be the same as in Bhiwndi" is the only reference that is made to this important question. So, too, with the regulations for the sale of wood for fuel and for agricultural and domestic purposes. The depôt system, which has admittedly failed in its application to the distribution of rab, has failed also as a method of distributing other forest produce. Such, at least, is the allegation, and it would be of public advantage to inquire into the matter, not departmentally, but by some more open and searching method of investigation. For the present, however, it will be sufficient to insist that the Government, despite the good intentions of their Resolutions and the proof which they supply of the presence of a new and better spirit at head-quarters, have dealt with only a portion of the grievances submitted to them, and that the forest question still challenges their careful attention.

THE thoughtful address in which Lord Reay introduced himself to the Legislative Council at Poona on Saturday loses none of its interest because the emergency in view of which its most striking passages were conceived appears to have passed by. It will be noticed that in this, as in the remarkable address which he delivered in Scotland shortly before setting out for India, Lord Reay discloses a genuinely Imperialist spirit. But his is the Imperialism of the Senate rather than of the platform. It relates the fortunes of the Empire with the destinies of the nations which are brought within its range. There is something as far removed as possible from the cheap spread-eagleism of the day in Lord Reay's anxious concern for the security of our position, not merely for security's sake and for the preservation of our prestige, but in order that we may work out, without interruption, the great problems which bear on the progress of the peoples committed to our charge. This is as unselfish—we might almost say as altruistic—a basis for self-defence as it would be possible to find in the whole range of political philosophy. It is the one starting-point, moreover, from which the Imperialist movement of the day can be directed to worthy and enduring ends. "Exactly as my belief in the justice of our rule is strong, so do I hold it to be unquestionable that no sacrifice is too great which makes that rule as safe as possible from outward disturbance." It is in that spirit that the recent manifestations of loyalty to the Empire have been made which Lord Reay so cordially recognised. The Governor's conception of the principles of English rule supplies an ideal to which it should be the unchanging purpose of everyone engaged in the administration of India to endeavour to conform. We may, it is true, fall short of it in some of our efforts. That flexibility of which he spoke is often to be found more strongly in the theory of our administration than in its practice. But it is still true that no colonising nation of ancient or modern times has shown a more sympathetic regard for the local customs and the racial peculiarities of the people with whom we come in contact. When we fail it is through forgetting that progress must be with other races, as it has been with our own, a process of evolution, and not one of transformation. This is a truth which is forgotten, perhaps, as much on one side as on the other. Englishmen endeavouring to mould the institutions of other peoples to a pattern of their own devising, and these others, on their side, endeavouring to accomplish at a bound what can be accomplished only by the slow process of political and social evolution, are alike in need of the caution which Lord Reay laid before the inspirers of extravagant expectations. His confidence in the "moderation and good sense of all classes of the Bombay community" shows that he recognises that on this side of India we have not been led away by impossible ideals, and that if we are sometimes disappointed in our rulers it is not because we expect too much of them.

FROM every point of view the destruction by fire of the Indian Museum at South Kensington, which we announce in a special telegram to-day, will be bitterly regretted in this country. The composition of the museum has often been severely criticised, and one eminent authority used to say that it was as remarkable for what it did not contain as for what it contained. At the same time, it has for some years been in competent hands, and as part of the South Kensington Museum, placed in charge of the Science and Art Department, it would have been certain to have gained in completeness and to have became an adequately representative institution. The worst of it is that an institution provided in the main at the cost of India has been destroyed at a time when there is small possibility of its being replaced in a hurry. The finances of India for some time to come will scarcely bear the burden of liberal contributions for the re-building and re-stocking of the museum. A beginning will no doubt be made next year, when the Indian and Colonial Exhibition will bring together large collections of Indian artwork, and much of that will probably be retained as a nucleus for the new museum which must rise from the ashes of the old.

NOTES FROM PARIS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, MAY 22.

IT is edifying to see two great nations sharpening their swords with unflagging energy, and at the same time assuring each other most solemnly that there is not the slightest reason to apprehend a rupture. The outward demonstrations, it appears, are intended merely to satisfy the bellicose aspirations of the masses. So the flourish of trumpets and clatter of drums really means nothing after all. As a proof of this, Prince Bismarck has retired to his newly-acquired estate of Schönhausen to compose a pastoral in honour of the reconciliation of the Northern Bear and the British Lion. It will be set to music by the King of Bavaria, and sung by Patti at the Italian Opera in Paris on the Queen of England's birthday. In acknowledgment of the compliment, Mr. Gladstone intends, weather permitting, that the Prince shall be made a Knight of the Garter, and invested with a gold collar bearing the inscription, in caingorms, Honi soit qui mal y pense. The rapidity with which things of this sort are carried out in these days would have startled our ancestors, and may surprise our posterity. For we seem to have attained the highest possible speed in the development and expression of human genius. There is some new influence in the air. The prevalence of telegraphy is affecting in a peculiar way, not easily explained, the brains of statesmen and artists, just as the change of electrical conditions produced by the union of the Red Sea and Mediterranean has watered the land of Egypt with unprecedented rains, such as Joseph and contemporary patriarchs would have pronounced impossible or miraculous. Nobody can guess what we are coming to. Perhaps to a dead lock. We are living so fast that our relations to universal history may to-morrow be as different from what they were yesterday, as the London clay is from primary granite. This dangerous velocity is turning people's heads. Gladstones, Ashmead-Bartletts, Churchills, and Bismarcks live in a perpetual whirl, with a tendency to upward or downward spirals, leading to vanishing points or collapse. This explains not a few of the complications and concatenations which are at this moment occupying the attention of Europe, not to mention Asia, Africa, and the outlying Archipelagos. Yankee pedlars are revolutionising China, and Chinese Mandarins take degrees at Yale, Harvard, and Brown University. Incongruities are becoming normal in nineteenth century experience. What, for instance, will be thought by our old friend Hoky Poky Wanky Fum, the King of the Cannibal Islands (the Nicobars probably) of the following advertisement, which appears in the Paris Morning News of to-day? "SUAKIM TO BE GIVEN AWAY.—To be given away, to an eligible applicant, on the retirement of the present occupant, the whole of that most commodious seaport and commercial emporium, commonly known as Suakim, on the Red Sea Littoral, with all the appurtenances thereof, including twenty miles of railway, and the exclusive right of way by the shortest trade route to the Upper Nile, with water communication for two thousand miles into the heart of Central Africa. The right to dispose of this valuable and most coveted investment has been acquired by the present holder by a capital expenditure of several millions sterling. The water frontage is excellent, and the harbour accommodation, in which the largest ironclads can lie in security, commands the road to India. Intending occupants, who must be civilised more or less, can have the whole of this desirable property, with all the appurtenances thereof, made over to them for nothing. Apply to Messrs. Gladstone, Granville, and Co., Downing-street, London, where maps, plans, and full particulars may be obtained at any hour between 10 and 4."

We have had cold, stormy, miserable weather in this part of France for days. It was predicted a week ago by the New York Herald, the clerk of the weather, who is found generally reliable. An American steamer from Philadelphia passed twenty-three huge icebergs, several of which were over 200 feet high. A baby-berg, which proved to be only 120 feet above water, was photographed by the captain. It has a sphinx-like appearance, and a most comical expression. The eyes seem to ogle the passing clouds, and the nose (an Irish pug) turns up contemptuously. As to the mouth, what shall I say? A whale might slip down into it—a regular Greenlander—as easily as an oyster. In fact, it looks as if it might have swallowed a number of whales or whalers, judging from the disproportionate size of its stomach, which must be more than half under water. Photographing icebergs may be amusing, in a calm, and at a reasonable distance, when they are drifting away from you. But the Great Eastern, getting between two of the monsters, bent on hobnobbing, would be crushed like a walnut. Unfortunates crossing the Channel to-day had exceptional experiences. It has been blowing as if Æolus had caught cold coming down from Olympus to visit his children in the Cave of the Winds, and was coughing and sneezing in Eurocly donic fashion, till the tears ran down his cheeks in showers too copious to be averted by the most umbrageous umbrellas. (That sentence may be compared, though I say it who shouldn't, with some ambitious paragraphs in the Saturday Review and Pall Mall Gazette.) Well, where was I? Imagination, like a bicycle going down a steep hill, is apt to run away with youth and inexperience. Tricycles are safer: you can put on the drag. By the way, what an intolerable nuisance those phenomenal vehicles are! They add a new terror to Parisian thoroughfares. You look out naturally for cabs and buses at a crowded crossing; but you do not naturally expect noiseless ghostlike apparitions to be threading the mazes among the commonplace four-wheelers, and endangering from one minute to another your valuable life, which may happen to be very inadequately insured; possibly, too, in a doubtful office. That reminds me of the melancholy spectacle one sees at the Palais de l'Industrie on such a day of downpours,—the poor cabmen and coachmen sitting under the deluge while their fares or masters are enjoying themselves in the Salon, looking at the pictures, or drinking sherry-cobblers and champagne with the ladies at the buffets. One moralises sadly on the different lots of equally respectable persons. Some coachmen of my acquaintance are much more respectable than their masters. Meteorology is a subject intensely interesting to cabmen, and even to cab-horses, though the poor beasts affect an indifference which they do not feel, and which makes a humane man feel for them. If they could speak, what grievances they might fairly present for redress! And the dripping, brandy-drinking cabbies, too, have their grievances, when a money-grubbing screw offers one a franc and a half and five sous pourboire for driving him from, say, Porte Maillot to the Gare de Lyons, four miles! It is the correct fare, no doubt, according to the tariff; the amount claimable for any distance within the city-walls. But no decent person would offer such a fare, unless he happened to be suffering from impecuniosity; and on a rainy day special consideration for man and beast is plainly a Christian duty. But I know churchgoers who don't even pretend to practise it. The metempsychosis view, that such wretches, on leaving their present human-form carcases, may be doomed to enter into the cab-horse form, and gallop through the mud in storms, morning, noon, and night, to catch the train, or take gay parties home from theatres, balls, and routs, the whip being vigorously applied to the equine flanks during such enforced activity—that view, I say, has a kind of rough justice in it. Lex talionis.

Victor Hugo is dead, a man of brilliant genius and warm sympathies, in whom the reverence and affection of the French people appear to have centred for the last ten years. There will be different estimates of his literary performances, and of their influence upon his generation. But for the moment the nation's grief seems to be as real as a nation's grief can be. It will not intefere much practically with public or private amusements; yet it is a fact, and a subject for conversation. Some admirers will put on black. The good old Archbishop of Paris offered kindly to go to Hugo, and give him "the last consolations of religion," according to the Roman rite. But the dying poet declined to have any priest of any faith in his house to witness the end. He was dying for about three days and nights, and seemed impatient for the issue, as if eager to leave infirmities behind, and enter upon "the unseen land" of which he avowed himself unable to form any clear conception. How many would give the world to know what he now knows! He was in his 84th year.

Two new books are creating a sensation among English readers: "The Spirits in Prison, and Other studies on the life after death," by Dr. Plumptre, Dean of Wells, and "The Gospel and the Age," by the Bishop of Peterborough, that eloquent Irishman, Dr. Magee, who made the grandest speech that has been heard in the House of Lords within a quarter of a century. "The Sacred Books of the East," translated by various Oriental scholars, and edited by Max Müller, are now being published in 32 volumes, by Frowde, of the Clarendon Press Warehouse. Of Dean Plumptre's book, the Spectator says, "Very clear, very candid, very learned; a model manual on the subject." The disciples of Colonel Olcott and Madame Blavatsky may like to hear of it. A third book may be mentioned which attracts attention, "The White Ant; a Theory," by Professor Drummond, author of "Natural Law in the Spiritual World." The White Ant is anything but a theory in India. The Pall Mall Gazette says of the book, "It is a pendant to Darwin's great study of the earthworm."

The re-appearance of the now famous Bosphore Egyptien may lead to unforeseen inconveniences. The Guards are detained off Alexandria, it is believed, to thwart French intrigue, though Lord Hartington declined to state the reason which induced the Cabinet to give the order. Invisible agents have been working among the canaille of Cairo and Alexandria, and attempting to get up riots. The transports with French troops which were intended for China have been cruising along the Egyptian coast, as if waiting for an opportunity of finding employment for the soldiers, disappointed at the cessation of the China war. Tents for 3,000 British troops have been ordered to be sent from Cairo to Ramleh, to accommodate the Guards and other corps arriving from Suakim. Lord Wolseley is to be in Cairo this afternoon. (And the Queen arrives at Balmoral this evening, in time for dinner.) The editor of the Bosphore Egyptien has pledged himself to conduct his paper with decency. Should he give cause for offence, the French Consul is instructed, it is said to suppress him.

"Liberty enlightening the world," the huge iron statue presented by France to America, is at last on its way to New York, on board the corvette Isère, which left Rouen yesterday, while the band of the 39th Regiment of the Line played the Marseillaise and the American National Anthem, in presence of a vast crowd assembled on the quay. Bon voyage!

The French papers crow over the evacuation of Suakim. Can any sane person reasonably wonder at this? The Frenchman, Osman Digma, is to build a country-house on the site of the Fort, where from time to time he will entertain M. de Lesseps and the members of the Suez Canal Commission. It is said that orders for a variety of recherché wines to stock the cellar have been received at the Bodega in the rue de Rivoli, and that an architect has been selected by Osman for the immediate erection of a suitable chateau, with all modern arrangements for luxurious comfort in all states of the weather. Osman will now retire from business, and rest gracefully upon his laurels, which will be spread upon a Hongkong chair in the front verandah.

THE EARTHQUAKES IN KASHMERE

THE INDIAN MUSEUM DESTROYED BY FIRE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
LONDON, SATURDAY.

A fire broke out last night in the Indian Museum at South Kensington. The building was gutted, and the whole of its contents destroyed.

The cause is not at present known.

The flames reached the adjacent buildings of the Inventions Exhibition, where, however, little damage was done.

LORD SALISBURY SUMMONED TO BALMORAL.

LONDON, JUNE 12, 5 A. M.

RESIGNATION OF THE MINISTRY ACCEPTED.

LONDON, JUNE 12, 5-30 P.M.

In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Gladstone made a statement that the resignation of the Ministry had been accepted by the Queen and that Lord Salisbury had been summoned by Her Majesty to Balmoral, where his lordship has arrived.

OUR NEW ENVOY TO KABUL.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
SIMLA, JUNE 13.

Lieut.-Colonel Ataullah Khan Sardar Bahadoor, successor of Lieut.-Colonel Sardar Muhammad Afzal Khan as British Agent at Kabul, has set out to take up the duties of his office at the Amir's Court.

THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION.

The Afghan Boundary Commission is still at Sinjao, awaiting the development of the negotiations in Europe. All the members are in excellent health. On account of the scarcity of forage, the cavalry escort has been moved eight miles higher up the pass.

TROUBLES IN BHUTAN.

News has been received of internal dissensions in Bhutan directed against the authority of the present ruler. Some fighting appears to have taken place. But as the roads on the Darjeeling side are closed, the Government has no certain information regarding the present aspect of affairs.

THE EARTHQUAKE IN KASHMERE.

In continuation of the previous reports on the subject the following official news, dated Srinuggur 12th and 13th inst., has been received regarding the earthquake in Kashmere :—

"The violence of the shocks is again abating, though eight or ten are felt every day. From the data as yet available the centre of the disturbance is calculated to be in the neighbourhood of Gurais. Severe shocks are reported to have been felt at Skardo. But no material harm is said to have been done.

"News received from Gurais, dated June 5, shows that severe shocks, such as have never been known before, were felt there from the 30th May up to that date. The east wall of the great tower of the fort, together with many houses, had been thrown down. But there is no mention of any loss to life.

"So far as has yet been ascertained, no Europeans in Kashmere have been killed or injured."

EDUCATION IN POONA.

(FROM THE SECRETARY, DECCAN EDUCATION SOCIETY.)
POONA, JUNE 13.

The Council of the Deccan Education Society has presented the Governor with an address of welcome. Sir W. Wedderburn, as chairman, made a few introductory remarks on the origin and development of the New English School, and introduced the members to His Excellency. The secretary then read the address. It gave the history of the Society, and expressed hopes that private educational agencies would flourish. It also alluded to the necessity of attending to technical education and the formation of a real university. It expressed the hope that education of every kind would be encouraged, and concluded with a prayer for the health and strength of the Governor.

His Excellency replied in most encouraging and sympathetic terms. He alluded to the good work and spirit of self-sacrifice of the managers of the school, and hoped that their society, which, connecting the Maharaja and Regent of Kolhapur as president and vice-president, combined old traditions with new culture, would thrive. He also remarked that private education should be encouraged as far as possible, and that his Government would give every support in its power to the Society, and concluded by paying a compliment to Sir James Fergusson.

Professor Selby then thanked the Governor ; and the proceedings terminated.

PARSEE LOYALTY.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)
NOWSAREE, JUNE 14.

An influential meeting of the Parsee community was convened at the firetemple, at the invitation of Bai Meherbai, widow of the late Ardasir Hormusjee Wadia, of Bombay, to give thanks for the expected pacification of the north-west frontier. The meeting was largely attended. A letter from Bai Meherbai was read, which dwelt in cordial terms on the many advantages which the natives have received from the English Government. The meeting terminated with offerings to the priests and the poor.

(FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.)
SURAT, JUNE 14.

There was a large gathering, including all the leading Parsee gentlemen of the city, in Dadabhai Modi's firetemple this afternoon, at the invitation of Bai Meherbai of Bombay, to offer thanks for the success of the British cause and British diplomacy against Russia. The usual religious thanksgiving ceremony was performed, and the assemblage stood up in honour of Her Imperial Majesty. The proceedings terminated by the distribution of flowers to all, and liberal money presents to the high-priests, priests, and poor Parsees.

THE OUTBREAK IN THE HYDERABAD JAIL.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
HYDERABAD, JUNE 14.

The members of the commission appointed to inquire into the late outbreak in the Hyderabad Central Jail have, I hear, sent in their report to the Government. They completely exonerate the Superintendent, Mr. Frederick Gordon, from all blame in connection with the shooting down of the prisoners. The regular and irregular troops are proved to have opened fire on the prisoners without orders from the jail officials, and they seem to have lost their heads and disregarded the orders to cease fire. The conduct of these troops has been severely animadverted upon. The report, I learn, is under the consideration of the Minister. The commission consisted of Captain Aisur Jung, Messrs. Woods, Sirinwas Rao, and Sabapathi Iyah, barrister-at-law. The last mentioned gentleman was both member and secretary, and consequently the brunt of the work fell upon him. I am informed the report is exhaustive, able, and lucid.

THE BIRTHDAY GAZETTE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
SIMLA, JUNE 14.

As there seems to be some discontent at the few honours bestowed this year, it would be well to point out that the number of these are limited by the rules of each Order. I hear on good authority that all vacancies have been filled up.

THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
CALCUTTA, JUNE 12.

Mr. H. L. Harrison, chairman of the Municipality, has taken three months' privilege leave, with additional week, to spend in Bombay for the purpose of visiting the municipal works of that city.

Mr. J. Cowie has been appointed to act as secretary to the Town Corporation during the absence, on six months' leave, of Mr. R. Turnbull.

THE DEFENCES OF MADRAS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
MADRAS, JUNE 13.

The Government of India has sanctioned a supply to Madras of four ten-inch twenty-six-ton rifle breech-loading guns to replace the present beach batteries here, which consist of six nine-inch twelve-ton muzzle-loaders.

BURNING OF THE MOOLTAN THEATRE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)
LAHORE, JUNE 13.

A telegram from Mooltan announces that the station theatre was completely burnt down last night. The cause of the fire is doubtful. There was no loss of life, or injury to any one.

The present incumbents are permitted to retain their appointments for a period not exceeding two years on the recommendation of the Commander-in-Chief. Officers granted extension of furlough are required to rejoin their regiments at once. Officers vacating their appointments under the rule may complete their service at home. No officer affected by this order is required to vacate before June, 1887.

THE INDIAN CONTINGENT.

The Governor-General in Council desires to place on record his appreciation of the satisfactory manner in which the despatch of the Indian Army brigade for service in Suakim was carried out. The thanks of the Government are due to the following officers and staff :—Colonels Hunt, Low, and Badcock, and Captain Gaisford.

The services of the following officers and staff call for the recognition of the Government :—Major-General Hughes, Colonel Williams, and Colonel Walton.

Sir Donald Stewart is requested to convey the acknowledgments of the Government of India to the Adjutant-General and Quartermaster-General, Surgeon-General, and Staff departmental officers connected with the despatch of the brigade.

The Secretary of State concurs in the satisfaction expressed by the Government at the promptitude with which the brigade was despatched and equipped, which calls for the heartiest acknowledgments of Her Majesty's Government.

NEW LEAVE RULES.

Officers under five, ten, fifteen, and twenty years service will draw £200, £250, £300, and £400 per annum respectively when on furlough. Officers over thirty-two years' service may take two years' furlough on £700 per annum, and senior officers may take six months' leave to Europe on full Staff Corps pay.

ANOTHER batch of invalid soldiers and followers arrived here yesterday by the hired transport Roma from Suakim, and landed at the Prince's Dock. The number consists of 46 fighting men belonging to one or other of the native regiments, and forty-six followers. The steamer met with a heavy storm on its way here from Aden, and had to stop at Kurrachee for about eleven days before resuming its voyage to Bombay. The change has generally improved the health of the men, among whom the prevailing complaints are dysentery and fever. Of the fighting men, twenty-three have been lodged in the 9th N. I. hospital, and the rest in the marine Battalion hospital in Marine Lines. The followers were taken to the Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy Hospital.

WE are asked to state that although the first public intimation of the cyclone on the Gulf of Aden was given in the extract from the log of the Kaiser-i-Hind which we published on Tuesday, it was first reported in Bombay by Captain Alexanderson, of the Clan Graham. On arriving here on Saturday, the 6th inst., Captain Alexanderson reported having experienced a cyclone off Ras Fartak on the 1st of June, which was travelling from south-east to north-west, and that the Clan Graham was in the right hand semicircle of it.

RUSTOMJEE HORMUSJEE CURSETJEE, the author of an obscene book in Gujerati, was sentenced by Mr. Desabhoy Framjee on Saturday to be detained in custody till the rising of the court. The magistrate observed that he had passed a light sentence against the accused, as the loss of some Rs. 1,700, which he had suffered by the destruction of nearly the entire edition of the book, was a penalty heavy enough for the offence. At the same time, his worship took into consideration the fact that the accused had handed over all the copies in his possession, and had done his best to secure the others that had passed out of his hands. The author, for whom his legal representative pleaded youth and inexperience, was penitent for what he had done. The magistrate thought that the fate of the accused would be a sufficient warning to others.

THE P. and O. Company have received a telegram from Suez, stating that the Mirzapore, with the London mails of the 5th June, left there for Bombay at 9 p.m. on Thursday last, three hours in advance of contract time.

THE cyclone which the mail-steamer Kaiser-i-Hind reported having experienced at about a day's sail from Aden on the 3rd inst. has been felt most widely in the North Indian Ocean. There is reason to fear that, in addition to the loss of the s.s. Speke Hall, mentioned in our columns on Saturday, there will be other casualties to chronicle. All the steamers that have arrived here from the Red Sea during the last week have reported having passed through a cyclone. On the 12th the barque Sir Lancelot, Captain Macdonald, from the Mauritius loaded with sugar, reports having encountered a very severe cyclone on the 9th and 10th inst., 190 miles south-west and by west from Bombay. The date the Kaiser-i-Hind met with the cyclone was the 3rd of June, and it is well to note that the same bad weather, with the wind shifting from north to south-east and south-south-west, was also met with by the Sir Lancelot, a week later and 1,200 miles further east. It is to be hoped, in the interests of navigation and meteorology, that the origin, progress, and direction of this circular revolving storm will be collated from the logbooks of the various vessels that have passed safely through it, and be made public.

THE steamship California, of the Anchor Line, arrived in Bombay yesterday, after experiencing some rough weather. For three days after passing Aden the weather was very fine ; on the 11th she felt the influence of the south-west monsoon, when there was a strong wind with a very high sea. Afterwards, until her arrival in Bombay, moderate monsoon weather was experienced.

A NEW line of railway has just been completed and opened for traffic in the State of Jodhpore, Marwar, Rajpootana. For years the project was under consideration as being one of importance owing to the traffic in salt, and only after His Highness the Maharajah Pertab Sing, C.S.I., assumed the position of Prime Minister was the work taken in hand. It is well known that in consequence of the large family of no less than forty sons and daughters left by the late Maharajah Tukkutte Sing, there was a great drain on the Jodhpore Treasury, and when Maharajah Pertab Sing undertook his present position the State was 48 lakhs of rupees in debt. These debts have all now been liquidated in full, and after paying for the construction and plant of sixty-three miles of railway, it is a matter of congratulation to His Highness that there is a balance of Rs. 4 00,000 in the Treasury, in addition to the yearly income of about Rs. 3,50,000. The Indian Traveller's Guide and Newman's Indian Bradshaw both contain the time and fare tables of the new railway, which was surveyed, laid out, constructed, and is at present under the management of Mr. Home, a P. W. D. man, whose services have at this time been lent by the British Government to the Jodhpore State. The cost of the railway per mile has been Rs. 22,000. This moderate charge is due to the able survey, which has avoided bridge constructions. The railway passes through districts promising traffic.

THERE were 48·60 feet of water in the Vehar lake on Friday against 48·30 feet on the corresponding day of last year. The height of the water in the Tulsi lake on Friday was 27·50 feet against 29·80 on the corresponding day of last year.

THE annual settlement of the account of the customs duty between the British and Goa Governments has resulted in a balance of Rs. 1,80,000 in favour of the latter. Senhor Joaquim José Arez, the Commissioner of Customs, took this amount with him on returning recently to Goa.

THE High Court re-opens to-day on the termination of the summer vacation.

SIMLA had a very pleasant evening party at Benmore on Thursday, the occasion being to meet the Viceroy and Lady Dufferin, who were the guests of the Rajah of Rutlam.

MAJOR N. C. MARTELLI, of the Rajputana Agency, whose special duty in connection with the control of the Mogiyas has come to an end, is to be posted to the charge of the Bhopawar Agency.

SUPPLIES have been poured into Peshin so quickly that there are now more than sufficient to maintain an army corps for three months, except grain for cattle and forage. These it is said, will be laid in up to the required amount during the coming harvest.

THE Sind-Peshin State Railway has been suspended temporarily between Hari and Harnai owing to the cholera, and most of the labourers have dispersed. Cholera has appeared in Harnia, and two cases are reported from Quetta.

THE Allahabad paper hears that it has been decided to construct a permanent line from the northern end of the Bolan up to Quetta, a length of about five and twenty miles.

IT is probable that Major T. Gracey, R. E, Engineer-in-Chief of Provincial Railways, N.-W. P., will replace Colonel Lindsay in charge of the Bolan Railway.

THE news of the Ministry's resignation was communicated by the Viceroy to the Legislative Council on Wednesday morning. The Council under these circumstances speedily disposed of the meagre list of business, and adjourning for a fortnight, dispersed to discuss the news.

A SPECIAL report from the senior officer on the Bolan Railway states that cholera has ceased, the epidemic wave having passed westward towards Quetta. Seven-and-a-half miles of metal have been laid, and the permanent way for over twenty miles is ready to receive rails. Work will be continued, as the cholera has disappeared, and the line is expected to be open to Mach by August 15. Arrangements are to be made to overcome the steep gradient at Dozan by laying the line at a 1 in 20 rise and using special engines. This will be a temporary measure to enable rolling-stock and material to be carried onwards for the railway from the northern mouth of the pass to Quetta, and for that on the Peshin plateau also.

THE recent question reported to have been asked by an officer of the British force at Suakim on boarding the hospital ship of the Indian Contingent as to whether "any officer of the Indian Contingent could speak English" shows how very ignorant some people in England still are as regards matters Indian. It reminds one, says a military writer in the Allahabad paper, of a little episode in the life of a lady, the wife of a gallant general, who on being told by her husband's aide-de-camp that he had been over to the Mess to see the English papers, remarked, "What, do native messes take in English papers ?" This was the last straw : the A.-D.-C. resigned.

COLONEL DE BOURBEL, Consulting Engineer to the Government of India, having made a final inspection of the Toungboo Railway, has advised that the line be opened on the 1st July for public traffic to Toungboo. The line was commenced early in 1881, and has taken a year longer to complete than was estimated. The whole line is 166 miles in length, and the cost about Rs. 74,000 per mile. Already, owing to this railway, immigration and cultivation are changing the face of the Sittang Valley. The through traffic from the Shan States and Ningyan Valley beyond Toungboo is expected to be great. The cost of transport will be reduced about 80 per cent., and that of the mail service from Rs. 12,000 to Rs. 500. The last relief of troops cost Rs. 48,434 ; next year it will be Rs. 9,864. There will thus be immense savings effected. Colonel Stanton, the Director-General of Railways, has strongly urged the early extension of the line to the frontier. The planters in the Toungboo Hills can now send down coffee, tea, cinchona, and potatoes, and their future prospects are brightened. The chances of a sanitarium for Burma being erected on the pine-clad plateaus of the Nalloung Range, at an altitude of 7,400 feet, have become more hopeful.

REFERRING to Mr. Hume's parliamentary project, the Pioneer says :—"As for Mr. Hume himself, with his energy and ability, he should not find great difficulty, if he is moderately fortunate, in gaining a seat, and might take the vacant place of Member for India with much advantage to the country. But the Indian party in Parliament, it may be feared, is likely to be confined to him for some time to come. There are strong prejudices in every constituency, not wholly unreasonable, against giving up its interests to some stranger with whom it has no common tie, and who wants to represent it only for purposes of his own."

OWING to the frequent disturbances at Mullapuram, the District Collector and Magistrate of Malabar has deemed it necessary to disarm the Moplahs. He has issued an order calling upon all Moplahs who had taken out licenses for the possession and use of arms to return them in order to have them cancelled. On Monday last a company of the South Wales Borderers, under the command of a captain, left for Ponany, a station on the Western Coast, for the purpose of disarming the Moplahs there.

WHEN Dr. C. D. Mahlen was Surgeon-Major in Madras, he brought to the notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief certain grievances of hospital assistants of the military service, such as insufficiency of pay, want of free quarters, &c., which, he said, merited consideration, as these wants weighed heavily on a deserving body of public servants. His Excellency replied that he was sorry he was unable to move in the matter. When Dr. J. Irvine was appointed Surgeon-General in Madras, he took up the subject and addressed the Bengal authorities, putting forth strongly the wants of these subordinates. This representation has not been without effect, for the Simla authorities have replied that a scheme will very shortly be submitted to His Excellency the Governor-General in Council for the purpose of re-organising the Hospital Assistant Class of the subordinate Medical Department of the three Presidencies, and that this scheme, if sanctioned, will very materially better the condition and prospects of these subordinates as regards pay, allowances, pension, and leave.

AT a big parade of the Nepaul troops held at Khatmandu on the 1st instant, there were upwards of 15,000 men present. The object of the occasion was to gratify a desire on the part of Sir Runodeep Singh to show the new Resident, Colonel Berkeley, the quality and stamp of men the Nepaul Government are prepared to place at the disposal of the British Government in the event of war with Russia. The Nepaul troops have now completed their preparations for active service, and in view of the lull in affairs, and after consultation with the Resident, the Prime Minister has dismissed the men to their homes on furlough. They can be recalled at short notice in case of need. Much disappointment is said to have been felt and expressed, especially by the officers, at the prospect of losing the chance of winning their spurs by fighting with the English against Russia.

THE Constantinople Board of Health has made some alterations in the quarantine regulations applicable to Indian pilgrims at Camaran during the season of 1885, from those in force during last year. The principal alterations are that article 8 has been modified so as to enforce ten days' quarantine at Camaran, instead of five days' ; and article 12 has been enlarged so as to include pilgrim vessels arriving from Bushire, Muscat, and Zanzibar in addition to those from Bussorah. The British delegate attached to the Constantinople Board of Health at once represented to His Majesty's Government the great hardship which would result from the detention of the pilgrims at Camaran for ten days, owing to the deficiency in supply of fresh water on the island, and the fact that the pilgrimage this year is likely to be very numerously attended. The British Ambassador at Constantinople has in consequence been instructed by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to bring the matter to the notice of the Government of the Porte, with a view to obtain a reduction of the period of quarantine in the case of pilgrim vessels arriving from India. In the meantime the Government of India has directed that notices be issued informing intending pilgrims of the alterations in the rules noticed above, and telling them that, as the supply of fresh water at Camaran is very limited, their detention on that island for ten days is likely to cause much hardship and suffering, as well as additional expense.

THE members of the Madras Missionary Conference have lately memorialised the Governor on the evils attending the present Abkari system in that presidency, which they assert to be one of the chief causes of the spread of intemperance amongst the people. The arguments they brought forward were much the same as those adopted by the missionaries and others in Bengal to induce Sir Rivers Thompson to appoint the late Excise Commission in Bengal, and they quote some of the recommendations of that Commission, as well as the remarks of the Lieutenant-Governor, with approval. Especially do they approve of Sir Rivers Thompson's remark "that no consideration of revenue can be allowed to outweigh the paramount duty of Government to prevent the spread of intemperance so far as it may be possible to do so," and they pray that this principle may be the guiding rule in the management of the Abkari Department.

A CALCUTTA paper regrets to hear of a serious loss that has been sustained by Mr. H. E. Abbott, the well-known racing planter of Jaintpur. A few months ago Mr. Abbott sent down his trainer, Clark, to Melbourne with £1,000 to purchase two maiden race-horses, and it is supposed that he had purchased Metal, by Tubal Cain, for £500, as well as another animal, with which he must have left Australia in the mail steamer Thibet. On the night of the 8th instant, Mr. Abbott received the following telegram from Colombo :—"Terrible passage ; both horses killed." To add to the misfortune, it is almost too late this season to think of importing other horses.

THE Japanese have become proverbial for the rapidity and completeness of their political movements. The other day they created a whole House of Lords in a week, and since then the "breath" which made the peers has disestablished as rapidly the established Church of Japan. It has been decreed that the official priesthood of all sects should cease to exist, and that the power of appointing and discharging incumbents of religious temples, monasteries, and shrines, as well as of promoting members of the various religious bodies, should reside in the superintendents of the sects. The decree has been received with satisfaction by the chief Buddhist sect in the country, and one of the leading publicists of Japan has published a long argument demonstrating the superiority of Christianity as a national faith from the material rather than the spiritual point of view. We live in a changeful world. Twelve years ago the Western Powers had to use all their influence to obtain the withdrawal of public notifications threatening with death any one professing Christianity, and containing violent and contemptuous language concerning the "padres" and their doctrines.

LARGE numbers of Hindu pilgrims from all parts of Bengal and the North-Western Provinces continue to arrive at Pooree. The number of visitors to the pagoda expected this year is roughly estimated by local officers at over a lakh. The local authorities are adopting precautionary measures to prevent the outbreak of any epidemic at Pooree or on the road. The number of pilgrim hospitals has been increased.

AN up-country paper publishes the following telegram from its correspondent with the Boundary Commission :—The surrender of Penjdeh to Russia is deemed certain here, albeit not officially announced, and despite reports of the retirement of the Russian troops and Governor. If the two Cabinets definitely settle the frontier demarcation out of court, the details before the Commission will be merely survey work. Intimation has been given of a possible reduction of tentage and baggage to the Kabul scale ; the surplus kit in that case would be sent to Herat. It is surmised that provision is being made for an expedition to the Oxus, or perhaps for a return to India through Afghanistan. A subsequent telegram from the same correspondent says :—It is proposed to shift the camp to Obeh shortly. The reported withdrawal of the Russians from Penjdeh has produced a good effect on native opinion here. The despatch of Colonel Lockhart to Gilgit is regarded here as the forerunner of the Oxus expedition. A party might still reach Kashmere before the passes were blocked.

REPORTS received by an up-country paper from Kashmere state that the ground on both sides of the river from Sopor to Baramula is seared with cracks, as are also the low alluvial hills in the vicinity, by the effects of the earthquake. The number of persons who have survived their injuries in these places is comparatively small, but they are receiving every possible attention from the Maharajah's native doctors under the superintendence of Dr. Neve, of the Church Missionary Society. The accommodation being very defective at Baramula, Dr. Leahy, who accompanied the Resident, was arranging to take the worst cases to Srinuggur. The Viceroy has telegraphed to the Maharajah expressing his regret at the great loss of life and destruction of property caused by the earthquake, and his sympathy with the sufferers.

THERE has been great jubilation in France over the defeat of Herr Krupp backed up by Prince Bismarck. The terrible disaster experienced by Germany is thus related in the French papers :—The Servian Government called for tenders for guns. Krupp demanded 11,000,000f. to supply the required weapons ; whereas the house of Cail, now managed by Colonel de Bange, of the mouster cannon, offered to do the same business for 6,500,000f. When Krupp learned this he at once offered to furnish the artillery at 5,000,000f. The Servian Government communicated this fact to Colonel de Bange, probably thinking that that gallant officer would reduce his price. This he refused to do in the most dignified manner, saying that the house of Cail did business on honourable terms, id est, at a profit of 10 per cent. The Servian Government, on receiving this noble reply, did not hesitate, but gave the contract to the house on the banks of the Seine. The most piquant part of the affair is, according to the French chronicler, that the terrible Chancellor proceeded to make good Krupp's loss, had he obtained the contract, in order to preserve the supremacy of the German firm. This is looked upon as a very plucky thing in Paris, this bearding of Prince Bismarck.

THE official report on the Calcutta Exhibition has at last been completed, and after having been duly considered by the Government of India, will be made public. The volume contains a collection of reports, several of which are of permanent importance, apart altogether from the Exhibition. They are both general and special in character, and vary in length from a few pages to the dimensions of a full-blown treatise. These reports form the first volume ; the second and third volumes, which have long been in print, contain the lists of exhibits and awards. It would have been well, we think, to have issued the latter volumes whenever they were ready, without waiting for the first ; but now that the work of the last two years has been completed, it is to be hoped that there will be no further delay. At the present rate of progress it is said to think that the report on the London Exhibition will probably stretch somewhere into the nineties.

MILITARY NEWS.

COLONEL G. A. WAY, Staff Corps, officiates as Commaudant, 7th Bengal Infantry, vice Colonel Worsley, on leave.

THE Government of India have sanctioned the immediate formation of a Battery of Volunteer Artillery at Moulmein.

OWING to the scarcity of subalterns in the scientific corps, it has been decided to give four commissions in the Royal Artillery, and four in the Royal Engineers, to students now at the Royal Indian Engineering College, Cooper's Hill.

ACCORDING to a General Order recently issued at home the junior officers of the rank of major, captain, and lieutenant of three years' standing may at any moment be transferred from battalions of a territorial regiment to another, that is from the home one to the one abroad ; this fact always hovering over their heads must keep those officers very much on the hip, as the expression goes, for they know not at what moment they may not be called upon to leave the battalion they are serving with. It is, however, provided for that should there be a volunteer this application should be considered, or as the order words it, "When, however, an officer of the rank required who is not situated as described above is desirous of being posted to fill a vacancy in the battalion abroad, and is reported in every respect fitted to be so transferred, his application will be considered."

BRIGADIER GENERAL GODFREY CLERK, h.p. Rifle Brigade, will vacate his appointment of Adjutant-General of the Madras Army on the 29th August, and be succeeded by Brigadier-General W. K. Elles, C. B., h.p. 38th Foot, commanding the Nagpore Force, and Aide-de Camp to the Queen. He obtained his commission as Ensign in the 38th Regiment in June, 1854, and he served with that corps in the Crimea in 1854-55, including the siege and fall of Sebastopol, the attack and occupation of the Cemetery on the 18th June (medal with clasp, Knight of the Legion of Honour, and Turkish medal). He served in the Indian Mutiny campaign from November, 1857, including the battle of Cawnpore and defeat of the Gwalior Contingent on 6th December, 1857, capture of Meeanguge, siege and capture of Lucknow, affairs of Barree and Nuggur (medal and clasp). He served in the Hazara campaign of 1868, and accompanied the expedition to the Black Mountain under Major-General Wilde as Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General (medal with clasp). He has had previous experience in the Adjutant-General's Department in Bengal, and also at home in the War Office, and he has proved a great success at Kamptee. And not only is he a good soldier, but he is also a man who possesses broad views, wide sympathies, and charming manners.

THE command of the Bhopal Battalion, which is under the orders of the Government of India, with its head-quarters at Sehore, became vacant on Friday, when Colonel J. D. Hall, of the Bombay Staff Corps, who had been its commandant since 1880, succeeded to his allowances. Colonel Hall entered the service at 20 years of age, rather late for the Indian service, consequently on the 15th June he will be 58 years of age. His first corps was the 4th Bombay N. I. Joining the Staff at its formation he was present at the siege and capture of Mooltan, served through the Persian Expedition of 1856-57, and during the Mutiny assisted in the pursuit of Tantia Topee. The regiment has a detachment at Indore, and although its entire strength consists of 20 native officers, 120 N. C. officers and drummers, and 800 privates, the European officers only consist of a commandant, a wing commander (2nd-in-Command), and two wing-officers : there are, however, at present two officers attached.

THE Royal Welsh Fusiliers will have the commands of both battalions vacant this year, within three months of each other. The 1st Battalion fell in on the 10th April, on Colonel Elgee completing his tenure, and now on the 21st June Colonel Luke O'Connor, V.C., finishes his time as a regimental officer, having commanded the 2nd Battalion for his full five years. The last vacancy in a command will go, it is presumed, to Lieutenant-Colonel Williamson ; Major J. H. Tulloch, of the 1st Battalion, who is now in England on leave, obtaining the vacant lieutenant-colonelcy. Colonel Luke O'Connor obtained his commission on 5th November, 1854, after serving for five years in the ranks ; he was then under 24 years of age, and consequently is a little over 54 years of age now, but being a lieutenant-colonel of 1874 he will be able to hold on till he is 58 years of age. He succeeded Colonel G. P. Prevost, who had commanded the battalion for more than 10 years, and would have continued another 10 had not the authorities interfered and insisted on the retirement to half-pay of all the unlimited tenure commanders of regiments and battalions on the ever-memorable 21st June, 1880. Lieutenant-Colonel Tilly, who obtains command of the 1st Battalion, will only hold it till 1st July, 1887, but Lieutenant-Colonel Williamson will have a longer lease, he having been promoted on the 24th December, 1881, in succession to the late Lieutenant-Colonel Tupper.

BOMBAY LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

A MEETING of the Legislative Council was held in the Council Hall, Poona, on Saturday afternoon under the presidency of His Excellency the Governor. There were present :—The Hon'ble M. Melvill, Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., C.S.I., Rao Bahadur Khunderao Vishvanath Raste, Messrs. K. T. Telang, F. Forbes Adam, J. R. Naylor, and Rao Bahadoor M. G. Ranade, M. A., L. L. B., who took his seat for the first time.

LORD REAY ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

His Excellency the President opened the proceedings by addressing the Council in the following terms :—Gentlemen,—In taking my seat for the first time at this board, I must be allowed to say how deeply I feel the value of your cordial co-operation in the execution of the responsible duties which have been entrusted to me by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress. The knowledge of the wants of the country, and the individual experience of the distinguished and able members of the Council are invaluable to the successive representatives of Her Majesty's Government. As the duties attached to the office I hold become more varied by the expanding demands of a progressive social condition, the need of your assistance becomes all the greater. Fortunately, on the subject which at this moment is of paramount importance, all classes of Her Majesty's subjects are of one and the same mind. Wherever English civilisation reigns supreme, there is a firm conviction that its aims and aspirations should not be jeopardised by a feeling of insecurity. We do not wish to delay or to stop the onward progress of other nations. We are equally determined that within our own dominions we should remain free from all temporary or permanent molestation to work out the problems which press for solution. The first solicitude of English statesmen at this moment must be to place the naval and military resources of the country on a proper footing. The spontaneous and general expressions received from princes and chiefs of their readiness to help Her Majesty's Government in any measures which the safety of the Empire might require bear conclusive evidence that at Calcutta, at Bombay, at Singapore at Sydney, at Toronto, at Montreal, at the Cape, there is the same wish that the treasures bequeathed to us by past generations of political experience and of steady progress should not be lost through any lack of foresight or prudence of this generation. The loyalty evinced in so many quarters in India has been duly recognised by our fellow-subjects elsewhere and it will increase the good-will which unites together all parts of Her Majesty's Empire. The importance of placing the defences of India on a solid basis has been admitted on all sides. This Presidency is quite prepared to take its share in this patriotic undertaking. My gallant friend, the Commander-in-Chief, whose experience is only equalled by his devotion to the Army he commands, is aware that his increasing efforts to maintain a very high standard of efficiency in the Bombay Army meet with the warm sympathy of the Government. The way in which the 28th Bombay N. I. distinguished itself lately certainly proves that no effort should be spared to give to the Staff Corps that continuity of military employment which the Commander-in-Chief claims for them. I may regret with you the abandonment, or temporary interruption, of a number of schemes which were fast approaching execution, but exactly as my belief in the justice of our rule is strong, do I hold it to be unquestionable that no sacrifice is too great which makes that rule as safe as possible from outward disturbance. And if, gentlemen, I do believe in the excellence of an administrative organisation which has been adopted in the greater part of the habitable globe, it is because that system is the most elastic and the least centralising which has been known in history. To belong to an Empire which gives you a maximum of the best thought and at the same time a maximum of freedom in recording your divergence by word and deed is no small privilege. The absence of all vexatious interference of the administration which is the fundamental principle of English law, is hardly known anywhere else. Whatever English administrators are sent, the humblest member of the community knows that his interests or grievances will be considered with the same care as those of any other more fortunate individual. The protection of the weak is the fundamental law of English administration. Its modesty, as been that the matter was brought prominently to your Excellency's notice in an address which was presented to you by the Municipality of Bombay on your arrival in this country. Your Excellency then thought the matter was one which ought to be taken in hand at once, and after some consultation it was thought that the best way of doing this was to appoint a small committee, consisting of the Legal Remembrancer and the Municipal Commissioner, who should devote themselves for some weeks exclusively to the task of drafting this Bill. Arrangements have accordingly been made for relieving Mr. Naylor of his ordinary official duties, and it is not anticipated that any financial difficulty will occur in connexion with his deputation. The Municipality, on their part, have made provision for the salary of a Deputy Municipal Commissioner, who will discharge the greater part of the duties of the Commissioner during Mr. Ollivant's absence. The legal difficulty is this, the existing Acts do not contain any provision for the appointment of such an officer as the Deputy Commissioner. It is to remove this difficulty that the present Act is introduced. Perhaps it is to be regretted that at the last meeting of the Council, when a Bill was passed to enable the Municipal Commissioner to be a member of the Executive Committee of Management of the Bombay Exhibition, the present emergency was not contemplated, or we might at that time have taken the power to appoint a Deputy Commissioner from time to time, as might be necessary. But the principle of the Bill is affirmed in that Act, which has received the sanction of the Governor-General. Mr. Melvill then moved the first reading of the Bill.

The Bill having been read a first time, Mr. Melvill moved the suspension of the standing orders, in order that the Bill might be read a second time, pointing out the urgency of the matter.

The Hon. K. T. Telang was willing to assent to the passing of the Bill in its present form to meet the exigencies of the time and simply as a provisional enactment. But some of the points covered by the clauses of the Bill would have to be considered with the whole of the circumstances of the Municipality and the framing of its administration when the Municipal Bill came before the Council. For instance, the Bill provided that the Government should have the power of appointing the Deputy Municipal Commissioner. This raised a question very fully discussed in connexion with the Local Boards Bill, but from the reports it did not appear that the Municipality had discussed it. He wished to guard against it being said hereafter that the matter was finally settled on the present occasion.

The President.—I think it is quite clear that this Bill must fit the existing exigency, and does not preclude anything that may hereafter be decided.

Clause II. Section B was verbally amended, so as to read "to be subordinate to the Municipal Commissioner and to assist him in his duties," which Mr. Melvill said Mr. Ollivant thought should be quite clear.

The second and third readings having been agreed to, the Bill was passed.

The President then adjourned the Council.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

SIMLA, June 13.—The barometer is still falling in the Punjab, Behar, and Chotia Nagpur. It has risen elsewhere greatly. In the Nerbudda Valley, owing to the falling temperature, the pressure is below average. In North-Western India the lowest is under the Punjab hills, and the highest in the south-west peninsula. The barometric gradients are very high in Northern India, and a strong westerly current blows across Gujerat. The wind is north-westerly in the Upper Provinces, and south-westerly in the Deccan. The weather is fine, the air dry and the temperature has slightly fallen in the Punjab and in the North-West Provinces. The temperature has fallen greatly in the Central Indian plateau. South-west winds prevail in Bengal and Burmah. There have been good showers in Akyab, East Bengal, and Assam. The monsoon is apparently advancing slowly in Central India and Bengal. Strong west winds prevail on the west coast. The sea is rough at Karwar, with an overcast sky in the peninsula, but the rainfall is very light. Rain to-day :—Chittagong, 2½ inches ; Akola, 3 inches ; Dacca and Dhuliri, 2½ inches ; Silchar, Khundwa, and Salem, 2 inches ; Indore, Secunderabad, Negapatam, Akyab, and Tounghoo, 1½ inches ; Diamond Island, Rangoon, Darjeeling, and Cochin, 1 inch ; Sibsagar, Karwar, Mangalore, Goa, Mercara, and Cuddapah, ½ inch. Previously :—Dinagepur 4½ inches.

The atmospheric disturbance noticed during the four preceding days has now almost disappeared ; the wind is southerly at all stations from Karwar to Surat, and the ordinary monsoon distributions of barometric pressure is fully established.

THE FIRM OF PEEL, CASSELS AND COMPANY.

THE Statesman writes :—The old Bombay firm of Peel, Cassels and Co., whose failure we regret to see reported, was an offshoot of the firm of John Peel and Co., of Manchester. Mr. John Peel belonged to the Sir Robert Peel family, and both firms held a very high position thirty or forty years ago. Mr. Andrew Cassels left the firm about twenty years since, to take his seat as the first mercantile member of the Council of India in Downing-street. He had been a partner in the Bombay firm, in which he was succeeded by his brother, Mr. John Cassels, who in his turn was succeeded by a third brother, Mr. Walter Cassels, who was a member of the Bombay Council in Sir Bartle Frere's time. Mr. Walter Cassels retired from the firm with a large fortune about the year 1883. He is a man of great culture, and was residing at Queen's-gate, two or three years ago. John Cassels died many years ago. He began life, if we remember rightly, in the Royal Navy, and retired from the Bombay firm before his younger brother Walter. Mr. Andrew Cassels sat at the Council Board of the India Office for the full term of 15 years we think, and was succeeded three or four years ago by Mr. Bullen Smith. It would seem to be by some natural law, that these old houses after flourishing for a long time, decay and finally fall. The Bombay firm did a very quiet and profitable business for many years in the piece-goods trade, and has fallen we suppose, through failing to adapt itself to the altered condition of things in the last thirty years, particulary since the opening of the Suez Canal revolutionised the whole character of the trade. The rise and fall of the old East India trade that towered so grandly in former times over the commerce of the world, would be a history of great interest if written by a competent pen. We have ourselves seen old charter-parties between some of the great firms and the East India Company, with freight at £70 a ton for the voyage outwards to India and China, and the return home.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "The Mexican Hair Renewer," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers. It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed.' ## CHANGE OF PARTIES AND VICEROYALTY.

THE Pioneer writes :—Whatever the changes that the sudden revolution in politics may bring about, there is no need to apprehend, we should hope, that they will affect the position of the Viceroy. Lord Dufferin's appointment was every where recognised not as a party choice, but as the selection of the man who was eminently the fittest that could be found to deal with a situation that was grave, and showed every likelihood of becoming graver. So much of its difficulties as was bequeathed to him by his predecessor has already been successfully disposed of. The Bengal Rent Bill question has been wound up, and the mischiefs of the Ilbert Bill thoroughly obliterated. But the larger danger, which is beyond the power of the Indian Government to remove or disperse, grows more and more threatening, and to confront it successfully needs the firmest temper and the best head that are at the service of the State. Fortunately, the leaders of the Conservative party are so thoroughly impressed with the critical character of the situation that there is little chance, should they come into office, of any desire on their part to find a Viceroy of their own. They will have enough to do and to reverse without interfering with an arrangement which is the one satisfactory and hopeful feature in the Indo-Russian question as it is bequeathed to them. Far more likely it is that they would implore Lord Dufferin to stop. And if his lordship is met in that spirit there can be little doubt of what his course would be. At no time has he been a vehement party man, and since he has arrived in this country he has sunk the politician altogether in the statesman. There is not a single passage in any speech he has delivered since arriving in India which would argue him either Whig or Tory. Here then may be a great opportunity for breaking through the baleful precedent that has obtained since the resignation of Lord Northbrook that India must be a party post ; and if Lord Dufferin should stay to interrupt that practice before it becomes an established tradition the country will owe him an extra debt of gratitude. The accident by which his lordship was enabled to reach India in December, instead of some months later in the spring, and to take over the reins before the Russian difficulty became serious, has been noted in all quarters as a most fortunate circumstance ; and the country will refuse to believe that a reign so auspiciously commenced can be destined to an abrupt, premature, and needless close.

THE SIND-SAGAR RAILWAY.

REGARDING this strategical line Colonel Stanton writes :—

In October, 1884, orders were issued for surveys for lines of railway in the Sind-Sagar Doab. The lines to be surveyed were—

1st, a line beginning at Malikwal Station on the Salt Branch, Punjab Northern State Railway, and crossing the Jhelum at Chak Nizam ; then along the cultivated land at the foot of the Salt Range, on the right bank of the Jhelum, to Khushab opposite Shahpur. From Khushab across the Doab to Kundian, on the left bank of the Indus, and then southwards to Muzaffargarh, on the right bank of the Chenab opposite Sher Shah ;

The surveys presented no difficulties, and the easy nature of the country enabled rapid progress to be made, insomuch that all field work was completed by the end of March, 1885, and 312 miles was finally staked out ready for work. In December 1884, the Government Engineer undertook the being made for the construction of the Jhelum Bridge at Chak Nizam and for the work on the portion of the line (5½ miles) between Malikwal and the bank of the Jhelum. Land plans were at once prepared and earthwork and brickmaking commenced and good progress has since been made. The manufacture of well-curbs is in hand and well-sinking will be commenced as soon as they are ready. The plans and estimates of the bridge are now under consideration of Government. The water way proposed consists of 17 spans of 150 feet.

VACANCIES FOR SOLDIER CLERKS.

THE Pioneer writes :—Numerous letters have during the last year or two been addressed to us from soldiers complaining that the majority of good berths that could be filled by soldier-clerks are monopolised by natives, principally Bengali Babus That such is the case is well known, and that some of these natives draw as large a salary of Rs. 100 a month, and in many cases still more ; the work could be done quite as well by a soldier-clerk for Rs. 30, or at the outside Rs. 50 per mensem. The appointments that should be open to soldier-clerks one would think would certainly be those in the offices of the Assistant and Deputy Assistant Adjutant-Generals of Divisions and Districts, and those Majors Station Staff, and those of the Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General for Musketry, as also a portion of those in the various offices of the Quarter-master-General's Department attached to Divisions and Districts. That the work of these offices could be as well carried on by steady soldiers cannot be denied, but it is to be regretted that the employment of soldiers in their offices is rather fought shy of by Staff officers in spite of the amount they could save by so doing. They say the soldier-clerk cannot be relied upon, that directly he obtains a staff billet, and so in a great measure away from the control of the Adjutant and from under the eyes of the Sergeant-Major, he becomes unsteady and degenerates, giving more trouble and annoyance than the saving is equal to. This no doubt is perfectly true in many cases, but there are a great number of exceptions, and as the soldier becomes more educated these exceptions will become greater. The majority of the Staff offices, however, in Bengal have not only a head clerk a native, but the others also. An officer granted an office allowance is of course quite right to provide himself with such clerks as he thinks will do the work best for him, or, in other words, who will give him the least trouble. Some officers do not care to work up the General Orders themselves, and everyone knows that there is no one like a Bengali Babu to work such things up and keep fingers' ends in order. There are, however, offices in which the entertainment of soldiers as clerks might be insisted on, such as those of Brigade-Major and Station Staff, for at these soldiers attend to take orders, and when soldiers passing through a station have to report themselves, much unpleasantness often arises owing to the chief clerk of the local Staff office being a Babu. They are addicted to treating the soldiers who come to their office rudely in a very high-handed manner, many compliants having been made regarding this against several offices. That soldiers should be encouraged in qualifying themselves for clerical labour there cannot be a shadow of doubt ; but if Staff Officers will not take them into their offices, it naturally appears to them to be labour lost. Were, however, sufficient inducement held out a great number of non-commissioned officers and men would qualify and come forward for appointments ; but then they should be placed on much the same footing as the Commissariat and Ordnance Departments—removed from the regiment and placed on the unattached list as military staff clerks. This would induce better educated men to join the colors.

ENGLISH SPORTING NOTES.

CRICKET.

THE first of the two matches against odds, namely that against the 22 Colts of Middlesex, that figures on the programme of the M. C. C. this season terminated in a draw slightly in favour of the youngsters, who at one period looked like securing a decisive victory. The club going in first completed their innings for 145, to which the Colts answered with 193. The club in their second venture put together 178, though at first it looked as if they would all fall to pieces. Mr. Ross with 46 and Mr. Quinton with 62, however, came to the rescue, and saved their side. In the second innings the Colts obtained 87 for 7 wickets. In the match the best form with the bat on the Colts' side was shown by West, 55 ; Bonington, 31 and 3 ; and Haycroft 3, and not out 31.

The match, Notts vs. Sussex, reference to which was made in the last notes, resulted in the defeat of Sussex by nine wickets. Sussex began very well, and actually headed the champion county in the first innings by 34 runs, but fell to pieces in the second inning. Barnes and Attewell proving too much for them, the former getting 4 wickets for 24 runs and the latter 6 for 32. It is worth noticing that in the first innings of Notts, Humphreys with his lobs obtained 3 wickets, Gunn and Scotton nearly knocked off the 115 runs required to win, but Gunn, who was playing brilliantly, had his career cut short by a fine catch at point. At Cambridge the last of the trial matches resulted in a draw. The twelve going in first made a very creditable show with the bat, obtaining 302 with 10 in the field. The sixteen obtained 275, Lindley 51, Coulby 41, and Hayter 37, being chief scores. On going in again Wright with 53 and Hawke with 34 again materially assisted their side, but the rest, with the exception of Buxton, who obtained a faultless 39 not out, did not do much, and the stumps and the match were drawn with the score at 173 for 9 wickets. At Oxford the next sixteen succeeded in defeating the eleven, a result due mainly to the fine batting of Pemberton, whose 113 went a long way towards obtaining the 271 runs scored by his side. The eleven could only score 81 in the first innings, but in the second Page 76 and Buckland 65 helped to bring up the score to 222. This left the sixteen but 33 to win, which they obtained without the loss of a wicket, thus winning by 15 wickets. This match being concluded on Saturday, on Monday a match was commenced with the M. C. C., which was captained by J. G. Walker, an old blue. On the third day rain prevented play, so the match had to be left drawn, largely in favour of the M. C. C. Mr. Studd's batting in the first innings was very brilliant, and he and Gunn in both innings completely collared the bowling. Hildyard played a fine innings of 62, which came just in time. At Cambridge the annual match versus an England eleven captained by Mr. C. I. Thornton was begun at the same time, but rain again interfered, and the match had to be drawn at a very interesting stage. The visitors scoring evenly obtained 235. Cambridge made a bad beginning and lost five wickets for 56, when Bainbridge came to the rescue, and played a brilliant innings for 62, which included four fours, six threes, and eight twos. He found most useful coadjutors in Messrs. Kemp and Lindley, so that the score was advanced to 165 for eight wickets. Then Mr. Marchant came on the scene, and the ninth wicket put on 52 more. In the result the innings closed for 231, or only four short of their rivals' score, and Mr. Marchant was not out with 50 which included five fours and four threes. He was missed when he had made thirty. Crossland was at one period destructive. Mr. Thornton, aided by Wright, made a big stand for England, the first wicket costing 92, but nine wickets had fallen for 130. Play was continued till five minutes past seven to finish the innings, but Mr. Studd and Crossland were not separated. On the third day rain made it impossible for the match to be continued, so it was left drawn with the score as follows :—

Surrey was fortunate enough in disposing of Leicestershire on the second day of the match, so the heavy rain on the third day, that interfered with so many matches, did not deprive the Southern county of a victory. This is Surrey's third consecutive victory by a crushing majority, and though the opponents were only a second-class county team, still the practice obtained thus will tell ultimately in Surrey's favour. Mr. Read and Roller were again to the fore, but Maurice Read failed to score, this being his first appearance in the team since his return from Australia. Mr. Homer's bowling in the Midland county's first innings was remarkable, especially on the commencement of the second day ; at one period his analysis read 18 overs, 14 maidens, 5 runs, and 4 wickets. When the mail left the following matches were in progress :—Shaw's Anglo-Australian team versus Lord Sheffield's Eleven, Cambridge versus M. C. C., Oxford versus Lancashire, and Surrey versus Middlesex. These had better be left till the next notes appear, when the full scores and results can be given.

The following cricket curiosities are worth noting. In a match between Magdalen and Brasenose colleges at Oxford, the former obtained 553 runs for 9 wickets, the score being made up as follows :—A. E. Young's 148 included two sixes, three fives, eight fours, and thirteen threes ; H. Debenhan's (not out) 134 included one seven, one six, two fives, eight fours, and nine threes ; Kitcat's 68 included one five, five fours, and four threes ; Simpson, 8 ; Sudholm, 38 ; King Harman, 0 ; Adams, 35 ; Hail, 34 ; Bromigg, 42 ; Craz, 10 ; Forbes, 5 ; extras, 44 ; total, 558 (for nine wickets.)

As a contrast to this may be mentioned the match between Egremont and Birkenhead Victoria, at the former place where the home players scored 49 in their first innings, and their opponents 55. In the second innings of Egremont, the eleven were all dismissed without a single run from the bat, the only runs obtained being two byes. Birkenhead thus most unexpectedly achieved a single innings victory with 5 runs to spare.

That well-known cricketer the Hon. Alfred Lyttelton was married on Thursday, May 21, to a daughter of Mr. Charles Tennant, M. P. for Peebles, at St. George's, Hanover-square. Amongst those present were the Duke and Duchess of Westminster, the Duke and Duchess of Buckingham and Chandos, and Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone. In honour of the bridegroom's cricketing fame, a little page dressed in cricket flannels bore the bride's train.

MISCELLANEOUS.

After six days' play the match 12,000 up, spot-barred, between Roberts and J. Bennett, the latter being in receipt of 3,000 start, was brought to a conclusion by the defeat of Bennett by 15 points only.

A mile match for the swimming championship and a stake of £100 was decided at Hollingworth lake near Rochdale in extremely cold weather between J. Finney and J. J. Collier. Finney was leading by over 10 yards when 60 yards from home, when he was seized by cramp and had to retire from the water, leaving Collier to finish the distance by himself, which he just managed to do, he, too, very nearly succumbing to the coldness of the water.

The third spring meeting of the L. A. C. was held at Stamford bridge in very unfavourable weather last Saturday, the Baroness de Louise and the Marquis of Lorne. The quarter-mile challenge cup was won by Cowie. The Amateur Champion, Wood, the holder, having resigned ; and the one mile challenge cup fell to Lancellor, who defeated J. A. P. Clarke, the holder.

At Oxford the summer eight-oared bumping races were concluded, leaving Corpus at the head of the river. During the races 25 bumps were made altogether, Oriel heading the list with six ; New, four ; Balliol and Wadham, three each ; Pembroke, St. John's, and Lincoln, two each ; Corpus-Morton, and Magdalen, one each. Magdalen was quite close upon Corpus on more than one occasion, while New were all but bumping Magdalen. The following crews headed the river in the different years from 1837, when Queen's was successful :—1838, Exeter ; 1839 and 1840, Brasenose ; 1841, University ; 1842, Oriel ; 1843, University ; 1844, Christ Church ; 1845 and 1846, Brasenose ; 1847 to 1849, Christ Church ; 1850, Wadham ; 1851, Balliol ; 1852 to 1854, Brasenose ; 1855, Balliol ; 1856, Wadham ; 1857 and 1858, Exeter ; 2859 and 1860, Balliol ; 1861 to 1864 Trinity ; 1865 to 1867, Brasenose ; 1868, Corpus ; 1869 to 1871, University ; 1872, Pembroke ; 1873, Balliol ; 1874 and 1875, University ; 1876, Brasenose 1877 and 1878, University ; 1879, Balliol ; 1880, Magdalen ; 1881, Hert ford ; 1882 to 1884, Exeter ; 1885, Corpus. This crew will hold the silver cup presented by Mr. G. Morrison, Balliol, till next year's race.

A few days ago a number of carrier pigeons contested a match from Schaffhausen on the Rhine, in Switzerland, to St. Gall, the distance between the two cantonal cities being eighty-eight kilometres, or exactly fifty-five miles. The first bird reached the goal at St. Gall precisely in an hour's time, and a telegram over the same intervening space of ground took eighty minutes to come to hand.

KEATING'S INSECT POWDER.

BUGS, FLEAS, MOTHS, BEETLES, and all other Insects are destroyed by Keating's Insect Powder which is quite harmless to domestic Animals. In exterminating Beetles the success of this Powder is extraordinary, and no one need be troubled by those pests. It is perfectly clean in application. Ask for, and take no other than, "Keating's Powder," as imitations are noxious, and fail in giving satisfaction. Sold by all Chmists in small bottles.

SARSAPARILLA.
Wilkinson's Essence or Fluid Extract of
RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA

Is the ONLY PREPARATION RECOGNISED by the FACULTY as a WONDERFUL PURIFIER of the HUMAN BLOOD.
It is not too much to say that those suffering from the effects of TROPICAL CLIMATES, such as TORPID LIVER, DEBILITY, ATTENUATION of BODY, ERUPTIONS, LASSITUDE, &c., will by taking this extraordinary ESSENCE of RED JAMAICA SARSAPARILLA, soon find relief and ultimately a cure. It is asserted by those who take a little DAILY the system becomes less liable to attacks of illness.
"We cannot speak too highly of it."—Lancet.
"We recommend your Red Jamaica Sarsaparilla."—Medical Review.
"The only preparation for removing what may be called the Sequelæ of a mercurial course."—Sir R. Martin.
The late Lord Clyde, writting for a further supply of Wilkinson's Sarsaparilla, says, "I am never without it, for when feeling depressed or out of sorts from anxiety or fatigue, a dose or two animates me."
"Your Essence of Red Jamaica Sarsaparilla CURED me of a Torpid Liver after all other remedies failed."—Earl of Aldborough.
PREPARED ONLY BY

THE "LOUIS" VELVETEEN

IS
"The favourite and most fashionable Material of the day."

The Wear of every Yard is Guaranteed
By the Manufacturer, and every yard of genuine bears the name
"LOUIS."

The strictest examiner may try every test of touch and sight without discovering that these are other than the Genoa velvets which they so closely resemble, while the peculiar arrangements resulting in the fast woven pile enable them to stand interminable and rough wear, which would ruin real velvets at four times the price. For Costumes and Trimmings it is unequalled, and in fact for all purposes in which Silk Velvet may be used we specially recommend the "LOUIS" VELVETEEN.

"LOUIS" VELVETEEN. FOR HOUSE DECORATIONS & UPHOLSTERY THE "LOUIS" VELVETEEN

Is most effectual, both on account of its durability and beautiful appearance, and is admirably suited for Curtains, Table Covers, Screens, Sofa Cushions, and for covering Bookshelves, Brackets, &c., &c. For NEEDLEWORK also this Velveteen offers great advantages, as it can be procured in so many shades, and is easy to work upon—soft, rich, velvety, and durable. The "LOUIS" VELVETEEN offers a most useful material for artistic decorating at little cost.
